15th European Board Examination in Neurology 2023

Application deadline:
March 01, 2023

The exam will be held online for the most part in May 2023.
The exact dates will be announced timely on our website.

In connection with the 9th Congress of the European Academy of Neurology.

We hereby kindly invite you to take a first class examination awarded by the title “Fellow of the European Board of Neurology” (FEBN).

The examination is a high-class test of competence in Neurology based on the UEMS adopted roles: Medical Expert, Communicator, Scholar, Health Advocate and Professional.

The examination is a joint development of the UEMS Section of Neurology and the European Academy of Neurology (EAN) and it has been open to candidates for a decade worldwide. Successful applicants are awarded the title “Fellow of the European Board of Neurology” (FEBN).

The outline of the two-part examination (written and oral), the list of topics, examples of questions and assignments, examination rules, and the scoring forms are available for review on the UEMS/EBN website.
